

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	1 of 29

Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation

Akara Resources Public Company Limited

Edition: March 2026

ห้ามทำสำเนาเอกสารโดยไม่ได้รับอนุญาตจาก QMR/Copy of the Document is not allowed except approval from QMR.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	2 of 29

Table of Contents

General Provisions and Principles	3
Medical Examination	6
Group Life Insurance	7
Group Accident Insurance	8
Employee Uniforms	10
Employee Meals	11
Transportation Allowance	12
Shift Allowance	13
Ordination Support Allowance	15
Marriage Support Allowance	16
Childbirth Support Allowance	17
Family Bereavement Assistance	18
Death Benefit for Employees	20
Long-Service Recognition Award	21
Provident Fund	22
Medical Benefits	24
Mobile Phone	27
Travel Allowance for Use of Personal Vehicle	27
Announcement on Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	29

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	3 of 29

Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation Akara Resources Public Company Limited (the “Company”)

General Provisions and Principles

1. Objective

This Regulation is established to prescribe the principles, guidelines, and scope governing the provision of welfare and benefits to Employees of the Company in a standardized, transparent, and equitable manner, in compliance with applicable labor laws, relevant legislation, occupational health and safety standards, and recognized good corporate practices.

This Regulation further aims to promote the quality of life, stability, and well-being of Employees in an appropriate and sustainable manner.

2. Scope of Application

This Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation shall primarily apply to permanent Employees under employment contracts with the Company, unless otherwise expressly provided in this Regulation, an employment contract, an individual employment agreement, or an official announcement issued by the Company.

Other categories of personnel, including probationary Employees, fixed-term Employees, temporary Employees, or other individuals, shall be entitled to benefits only as determined by the Company on a case-by-case basis.

Individuals performing work for the Company in the capacity of consultants, independent contractors, service providers, contractors, or any other external persons shall not be subject to this Regulation, unless expressly provided in writing by the Company.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	4 of 29

3. General Principles on Welfare and Benefits

- 3.1 The welfare and benefits provided under this Regulation are granted at the discretion of the Company, except where otherwise required by law. The legal status of each category of welfare or benefit shall be determined in accordance with the relevant section of this Regulation and applicable laws.
- 3.2 Eligibility for any welfare or benefit shall be subject to the qualifications, conditions, criteria, procedures, and processes prescribed by the Company, including any specific announcements, policies, or guidelines issued in connection therewith, which shall form an integral part of this Regulation.
- 3.3 The Company reserves the right to prescribe, amend, modify, suspend, or terminate any welfare or benefit, in whole or in part, as deemed appropriate in light of business conditions, service provider arrangements, or legal requirements. The determination as to whether any welfare or benefit constitutes a condition of employment shall be subject to applicable labor laws and the interpretation of competent authorities.
- 3.4 In the event of any inconsistency or ambiguity between this Regulation and any employment contract, individual agreement, or Company announcement, the provision expressly stipulated in writing shall prevail.
- 3.5 The Company is committed to promoting equality, diversity, and non-discrimination in the provision of welfare and benefits. Consideration shall be based on principles of fairness, transparency, and equal opportunity, taking into account differences in gender, age, disability, and other relevant personal factors as appropriate.

4. Administration and Governance

- 4.1 The Human Resources Department shall serve as the primary unit responsible for administering, managing, interpreting, and overseeing the implementation of this Regulation, and shall have the authority to propose additional guidelines as necessary to ensure alignment with its objectives.
- 4.2 The Company may prescribe additional procedures, forms, documentation requirements, or electronic systems to facilitate the administration of welfare and benefits, which shall form part of the implementation process under this Regulation.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	5 of 29

4.3 Employees shall comply with all prescribed procedures and shall provide accurate, complete, and truthful information when applying for any welfare or benefit. In the event of false statements or improper use of benefits, the Company may suspend such benefits and take disciplinary action in accordance with its internal regulations.

5. Personal Data Protection

5.1 The Company may collect, use, and disclose personal data of Employees and their family members for the purpose of administering welfare and benefits under this Regulation.

5.2 The Company may disclose such personal data to external service providers, including insurance companies, hospitals, financial institutions, or provident fund managers, to the extent necessary for the implementation of the relevant welfare or benefits.

5.3 Such processing of personal data shall be carried out in compliance with applicable personal data protection laws and the Company's data security measures.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	6 of 29

Welfare and Benefits

1. Medical Examination

1.1 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees under the Company's employment contracts, unless otherwise expressly specified in the relevant regulations, announcements, or employment agreements.

For positions involving health or safety risks, the Company may require other categories of employees to undergo additional medical examinations as deemed appropriate.

1.2 Benefits

The Company provides medical examinations as follows:

1.2.1 Pre-Employment Medical Examination

1.2.1.1 Candidates selected for employment must undergo a medical examination prior to commencing work, or within the period specified by the Company. For positions involving health or safety risks, the Company may require additional examinations according to the nature of the job-related risks.

1.2.1.2 The Company shall be responsible for the medical examination expenses in accordance with the program specified by the Company.

1.2.1.3 If the candidate fails to undergo the medical examination within the specified period, the Company may consider postponing the appointment, temporarily suspending work, or assigning other suitable duties as appropriate, for the purpose of ensuring workplace safety.

1.2.1.4 Medical examination results shall be used solely for assessing suitability for the job, ensuring safety in the performance of duties, and complying with applicable laws. The Company shall not use such information in a manner that constitutes unfair discrimination.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	7 of 29

1.2.2 Annual Medical Examination

- 1.2.2.1 The Company shall arrange for employees to undergo an annual medical examination at least once per year, or more frequently as required by law or based on the nature of job-related risks.
- 1.2.2.2 The Company shall bear the cost of the medical examination in accordance with the program specified by the Company.
- 1.2.2.3 In cases where medical examination results indicate potential health risks, the Company may consider implementing additional preventive measures, adjusting working conditions, or arranging further medical examinations as appropriate.

1.3 Use and Protection of Health Information

- 1.3.1 Medical examination results shall be considered sensitive personal data under applicable personal data protection laws.
- 1.3.2 The Company shall collect, use, and disclose such information only to the extent necessary for workplace safety, human resource management, and compliance with applicable laws.
- 1.3.3 The Company may disclose such information to physicians, occupational health authorities, or legally authorized agencies to the extent necessary for the aforementioned purposes.
- 1.3.4 The Company shall implement appropriate data security measures and comply with applicable laws in protecting such information.

2. Group Life Insurance

2.1 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees of the Company, unless otherwise expressly specified in the relevant employment agreements, announcements, or regulations.

The Company may, on a case-by-case basis and as deemed appropriate, extend coverage to other categories of employees.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	8 of 29

2.2 Benefits

- 2.2.1 The Company provides group life insurance coverage with a death benefit of THB 300,000 per person, or such other coverage amount as may be determined by the Company from time to time.
- 2.2.2 The scope of coverage, conditions, exclusions, claim considerations, and other related provisions shall be in accordance with the Company's group life insurance policy and the rules and conditions of the insurance provider.
- 2.2.3 Payment of insurance benefits shall be made to the beneficiary designated by the employee. In the absence of a validly designated beneficiary, the insurance benefits shall be paid to the employee's lawful heirs in accordance with applicable law.

2.3 Commencement and Termination of Coverage

- 2.3.1 Insurance coverage shall commence from the date the employee meets the eligibility requirements under the insurance policy and/or the date the Company submits the employee's name for coverage to the insurance provider, as applicable.
- 2.3.2 Coverage shall terminate upon the employee's cessation of employment, upon termination of the group life insurance policy, or upon any change to the Company's welfare arrangements relating to such insurance, in accordance with the terms of the insurance policy and the Company's announcements.

2.4 Changes to Conditions

The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, or discontinue the criteria, conditions, and scope of this welfare benefit as deemed appropriate, taking into consideration business conditions or the terms of the group life insurance policy, subject to applicable laws.

3. Group Accident Insurance

3.1 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees under the Company's employment contracts, unless otherwise expressly specified in the relevant employment agreements, announcements, or regulations.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	9 of 29

The Company may, on a case-by-case basis and as deemed appropriate, extend coverage to other categories of employees.

3.2 Benefits

- 3.2.1 Accidental death coverage of THB 500,000 per person, or such other coverage amount as may be determined by the Company from time to time.
- 3.2.2 Medical expenses arising from an accident, up to THB 50,000 per accident, or in accordance with the limits specified in the insurance policy.
- 3.2.3 The scope of coverage, conditions, exclusions, and claim considerations shall be in accordance with the terms and conditions specified in the Company's group personal accident insurance policy.

3.3 Commencement and Termination of Coverage

- 3.3.1 Insurance coverage shall commence from the date the employee satisfies the eligibility requirements under the insurance policy and the Company has submitted the employee's name for coverage to the insurance provider.
- 3.3.2 Coverage shall terminate upon the employee's cessation of employment, upon termination of the group personal accident insurance policy, or upon any change to or cancellation of this welfare arrangement by the Company, whichever occurs first.

3.4 Changes to Conditions

The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, or discontinue the coverage amount, criteria, and conditions of the group personal accident insurance as deemed appropriate, taking into consideration business conditions or the terms of the insurance policy, subject to applicable laws.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	10 of 29

4. Employee Uniforms

4.1 Purpose

This policy aims to establish guidelines for the provision, use, maintenance, and management of employee uniforms in a manner that is appropriate and consistent with the nature of the work, safety standards, and the Company's corporate image.

4.2 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees of the Company. The Company may establish additional criteria for probationary employees, contract employees, or other categories of employees as determined by the Company.

4.3 Provision of Uniforms

4.3.1 The Company shall determine the type, necessity, and appropriateness of uniforms in accordance with the duties, responsibilities, nature of work, and workplace of each position.

4.3.2 Employees shall be provided with uniforms as follows:

4.3.2.1 Upon commencement of employment, the Company may provide uniforms as necessary based on the position and nature of the work.

4.3.2.2 Any additional provision of uniforms thereafter, including the number of uniforms, replacement cycle, conditions for issuance, or replacement of uniforms, shall be in accordance with the announcements, regulations, or guidelines prescribed by the Company, which shall form part of this Regulation.

4.3.2.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or discontinue the criteria for providing uniforms as deemed appropriate. Such actions shall not be considered a change to the employee's conditions of employment.

4.3.3 The design, type, color, size, safety standards, and technical specifications of the uniforms shall be as determined by the Company and may be revised as appropriate.

4.3.4 Uniforms provided under this policy are intended solely for work-related purposes and shall not be considered wages or remuneration under applicable labour laws.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	11 of 29

4.4 Use and Maintenance

- 4.4.1 Employees shall wear the prescribed uniform during working hours as required by the Company, unless otherwise authorized in special circumstances.
- 4.4.2 Employees are responsible for maintaining their uniforms in a clean, orderly, and serviceable condition.
- 4.4.3 Uniforms shall not be used for personal purposes or for activities that may damage the reputation or image of the Company.
- 4.4.4 In the event that uniforms are lost or damaged due to intentional acts or gross negligence of the employee, the Company may require the employee to compensate for the damage incurred, subject to applicable labour laws.

4.5 Termination of Entitlement

The entitlement to receive uniforms shall cease upon termination of employment. The Company may require employees to return uniforms that remain in usable condition. Any actions relating to uniforms after termination of employment shall be in accordance with applicable labour laws.

5. Employee Meals

5.1 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees of the Company, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

5.2 Benefits

- 5.2.1 The Company provides one meal per day for employees on days when they report for duty at the Chatree Gold Mine through the Company's canteen system.
- 5.2.2 In cases where employees are required to perform duties off-site and are unable to consume the meal provided by the Company, they may claim a meal allowance in accordance with the rates, criteria, and procedures prescribed by the Company.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	12 of 29

5.3 Conditions of the Benefit

- 5.3.1 The provision of employee meals under this section is intended to facilitate employees in the performance of their duties.
- 5.3.2 Such benefit shall not be considered wages, remuneration, or income from employment under labour laws and shall not form the basis for the calculation of any benefits under labour laws.
- 5.3.3 Employees may not request to receive this benefit in cash or in any other form of benefit unless otherwise specified by the Company.
- 5.3.4 The Company may determine, amend, revise, suspend, or discontinue this benefit as deemed appropriate based on business conditions or administrative reasons. The Company will notify employees in advance where practicable. Such actions shall not be considered a reduction of wages or a change in employment conditions.

6. Transportation Allowance

6.1 Purpose

This policy aims to support employees' commuting to and from the Company's workplace.

6.2 Eligibility

Eligible persons include employees at the Operational Level ("O" Level) who perform their duties at the Chatree Gold Mine, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

6.3 Benefits and Criteria

- 6.3.1 The Company provides a transportation allowance of a maximum of THB 1,100 per month, or such other amount as may be determined and announced by the Company from time to time.
- 6.3.2 The allowance under this section shall be granted only for days on which employees actually report for duty at the workplace designated by the Company. The allowance shall be calculated on a pro-rata daily basis, based on the number of days the employee performs work.
- 6.3.3 Employees shall not be entitled to the transportation allowance on days when they:
 - 6.3.3.1 are absent from work without entitlement to wages
 - 6.3.3.2 take unpaid leave
 - 6.3.3.3 are suspended under the Company's disciplinary regulations

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	13 of 29

6.4 Legal Status of the Benefit

- 6.4.1 The transportation allowance under this section is provided as part of the Company's welfare administration in lieu of arranging employee transportation services and is intended solely to support employees' travel expenses for commuting to work.
- 6.4.2 Such allowance shall not be considered wages under labour laws and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or other statutory benefits.
- 6.4.3 The calculation on a pro-rata daily basis is solely an administrative method for managing this welfare benefit and shall not render such allowance as wages. The Company may amend, suspend, or discontinue this benefit as deemed appropriate based on business conditions or administrative reasons, without creating any future entitlement or claim.

7. Shift Allowance

7.1 Purpose

This policy aims to compensate employees for the burden, inconvenience, and limitations arising from working under a shift system, which differs from normal working hours and may affect employees' lifestyle, health, and rest.

7.2 Eligibility

Eligible persons include employees at the Operational Level ("O" Level) who are assigned to work under a shift system in the departments designated by the Company, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

7.3 Benefits and Criteria

- 7.3.1 The Company determines shift allowance rates based on the nature of shift operations. The current rates are as follows, or as otherwise determined and announced by the Company from time to time:
- 7.3.1.1 24-hour rotating shift: THB 1,800 per month
- 7.3.1.2 Two-shift system: THB 1,200 per month

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	14 of 29

7.3.2 The shift allowance shall be granted only for periods during which the employee is assigned to work under a shift system. The allowance shall be calculated on a pro-rata daily basis based on the actual period of shift work.

7.3.3 Employees shall not be entitled to the shift allowance in the following circumstances:

7.3.3.1 days on which the employee does not perform shift work

7.3.3.2 days of absence or leave without pay

7.3.3.3 periods during which the employee is suspended under the Company's disciplinary regulations

7.3.3.4 periods during which the employee is transferred to a position that does not operate under a shift system

7.4 Legal Status of the Shift Allowance

7.4.1 The shift allowance is paid due to the nature and conditions of work under a shift system and shall be considered wages only to the extent required by applicable laws.

7.4.2 The Company shall include the shift allowance as part of the wage base for calculating social security contributions in accordance with applicable laws. Such contributions are made solely for the purpose of complying with legal requirements and shall not constitute confirmation that the shift allowance forms part of the wage base for calculating any other benefits beyond those required by law.

7.4.3 The shift allowance shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, special severance pay, compensation, or any other benefits, unless otherwise required by law.

7.4.4 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or discontinue the rates, criteria, and conditions of the shift allowance as deemed appropriate based on business conditions, operational requirements, or administrative reasons. Such actions shall not be considered a reduction of wages unless otherwise required by law.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	15 of 29

8. Ordination Support Allowance

8.1 Purpose

This policy aims to support employees in participating in religious and traditional activities according to their personal beliefs, which form part of Thai culture and society.

8.2 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees of the Company who are entitled to leave in accordance with the Company's work regulations, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

8.3 Benefits and Criteria

- 8.3.1 The Company may grant an ordination support allowance of THB 3,000 per employee, subject to the criteria, procedures, and conditions prescribed and announced by the Company from time to time.
- 8.3.2 Employees must submit a request together with valid and complete supporting documents providing evidence of the ordination, in accordance with the form and timeframe specified by the Company.
- 8.3.3 The allowance under this section shall be granted only once throughout the employee's employment with the Company.

8.4 Legal Status of the Allowance

- 8.4.1 The allowance under this section is a welfare benefit provided in accordance with the Company's policy to support social and cultural activities and does not constitute remuneration for work performed.
- 8.4.2 Such allowance shall not be considered wages, remuneration, or income from employment under labour laws and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other benefits, unless otherwise required by law.
- 8.4.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or discontinue the criteria, rates, and conditions of this benefit as deemed appropriate based on business conditions or administrative reasons. Such actions shall not be considered a reduction of

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	16 of 29

wages or a change in employment conditions and shall not create any future entitlement or claim.

9. Marriage Support Allowance

9.1 Purpose

This policy aims to support and extend congratulations to employees on the occasion of their wedding ceremony in accordance with their personal beliefs and traditions.

9.2 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees of the Company who have completed their probation period and whose marriage ceremony takes place during their period of employment with the Company, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

9.3 Benefits and Criteria

- 9.3.1 The Company may grant a marriage support allowance of THB 5,000 per employee, subject to the criteria, procedures, and conditions prescribed and announced by the Company from time to time.
- 9.3.2 Employees must submit a request together with appropriate supporting documents as evidence of the wedding ceremony, such as a wedding invitation card, photographs of the ceremony, or other documents as specified by the Company, within 90 days from the date of the ceremony.
- 9.3.3 The allowance under this section shall be granted only once throughout the employee's employment with the Company.
- 9.3.4 Eligibility for this allowance does not require legal marriage registration. However, the wedding ceremony must have actually taken place during the employee's period of employment and supporting evidence must be provided as required by the Company. The Company reserves the right to determine the appropriateness of such evidence.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	17 of 29

9.4 Legal Status of the Allowance

- 9.4.1 The allowance under this section is a welfare benefit provided to support social and cultural occasions and does not constitute remuneration for work performed.
- 9.4.2 Such allowance shall not be considered wages, remuneration, or income from employment under labour laws and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other benefits, unless otherwise required by law.
- 9.4.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or discontinue the criteria, rates, and conditions of this benefit as deemed appropriate based on business conditions or administrative reasons. Such actions shall not be considered a reduction of wages or a change in employment conditions and shall not create any future entitlement or claim.

10. Childbirth Support Allowance

10.1 Purpose

This policy aims to support employees and help alleviate expenses incurred on the occasion of childbirth, while promoting family stability.

10.2 Eligibility

Eligible persons include permanent employees of the Company who have passed probation and are the legal father or mother of a child whose birth occurs during the employee's period of employment with the Company, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

10.3 Benefits and Criteria

- 10.3.1 The Company may grant a childbirth support allowance of THB 7,500 per childbirth, subject to the criteria, procedures, and conditions prescribed by the Company.
- 10.3.2 Employees must submit a request for the allowance together with the following supporting documents:
- 10.3.2.1 a copy of the child's birth certificate

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	18 of 29

10.3.2.2 in cases where the employee is the father and is not legally married to the child's mother, a certificate of child legitimization or other documents evidencing legal paternity

10.3.2.3 other documents as required by the Company

10.3.3 Employees must submit the request within 30 days after returning to work following the childbirth. The Company may grant an extension at its discretion where reasonable grounds exist.

10.3.4 The allowance under this section shall be granted per childbirth event. One childbirth shall constitute one entitlement, even if more than one child is born from the same childbirth.

10.3.5 This benefit does not cover adoption or other cases not involving childbirth, unless otherwise expressly specified by the Company.

10.4 Legal Status of the Allowance

10.4.1 The allowance under this section is provided as a welfare benefit to support employees' family needs and does not constitute remuneration for work performed.

10.4.2 Such allowance shall not be considered wages, remuneration, or income from employment and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other benefits, unless otherwise required by law.

10.4.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or discontinue the criteria, rates, and conditions of this benefit as deemed appropriate. Such actions shall not be considered a reduction of wages or a change in employment conditions and shall not create any future entitlement or claim.

11. Family Bereavement Assistance

11.1 Purpose

To express the Company's care and support for employees and their families in the event of a loss.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	19 of 29

11.2 Eligibility

This benefit applies to the Company's permanent employees, including employees during their probation period, unless otherwise clearly specified by the Company.

11.3 Benefits and Conditions

11.3.1 "Employee's family" means the employee's father, mother, legally married spouse, and legitimate child.

11.3.2 The Company may, at its discretion, provide funeral assistance in the amount of THB 10,000 per deceased person, in accordance with the criteria, procedures, and conditions determined by the Company.

11.3.3 The Company may provide one funeral wreath to express condolences.

11.3.4 The Company may sponsor one night of funeral rites.

11.3.5 The employee must inform the Company and submit supporting documents regarding the death as required by the Company.

11.3.6 In the event that more than one employee is entitled to benefits under this provision due to the death of the same person, the Company may provide financial assistance to each eligible employee according to their respective entitlement. However, the provision of a funeral wreath and the sponsorship of funeral rites will be arranged only once per deceased person, unless otherwise determined by the Company.

11.4 Legal Status of the Assistance

11.4.1 The benefits under this provision are provided as assistance in accordance with the Company's policy and shall not be considered wages or remuneration for work.

11.4.2 Any payment or benefit provided under this provision shall not be regarded as wages, remuneration, or income arising from employment and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other employment-related benefits, unless otherwise required by law.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	20 of 29

11.4.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or cancel the criteria, rates, and conditions of this benefit as appropriate. Such changes shall not be deemed a change in employment conditions and shall not give rise to any future claims.

12. Death Benefit for Employees

12.1 Eligible Recipient

The beneficiary designated by the employee in the beneficiary nomination form submitted to the Company. If no beneficiary has been designated, the benefit shall be paid to the employee's legal heirs.

12.2 Benefits and Conditions

12.2.1 The Company may, at its discretion, provide financial assistance based on the employee's length of service as follows, in accordance with the criteria and conditions determined by the Company.

Length of Service	Assistance Amount
Employee during probation period	THB 30,000
After probation but less than 3 years	3 times the last monthly salary
3 years but less than 6 years	6 times the last monthly salary
6 years but less than 10 years	8 times the last monthly salary
10 years and above	10 times the last monthly salary

12.2.2 The assistance under this provision shall not be less than THB 100,000 and shall not exceed THB 300,000, excluding employees who are still under probation.

12.2.3 The Company may provide one funeral wreath to express condolences.

12.2.4 The Company may sponsor one night of funeral rites.

12.2.5 The Company may arrange condolence flowers as appropriate.

12.2.6 The eligible recipient must submit the death certificate and supporting documents required by the Company to verify entitlement to the benefit.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	21 of 29

12.2.7 Last monthly salary means the employee's basic monthly salary and excludes overtime pay, special allowances, or any other benefits.

12.3 Legal Status of the Benefit

- 12.3.1 The benefit under this provision is provided in accordance with the Company's policy and shall not be considered wages, severance pay, or statutory benefits under labour law.
- 12.3.2 Any payment or benefit under this provision shall not be regarded as wages, remuneration, or income arising from employment and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other employment-related benefits, unless otherwise required by law.
- 12.3.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or cancel the criteria, rates, and conditions of this benefit as appropriate. Such changes shall not be deemed a change in employment conditions and shall not give rise to any future claims.

13. Long-Service Recognition Award

13.1 Purpose

To express appreciation and recognize employees who have demonstrated dedication and continuous service with the Company, reaching the required length of service milestones.

13.2 Eligibility

Permanent employees who have completed the continuous service periods specified by the Company, in accordance with the criteria and conditions outlined in Section 13.3.

13.3 Benefits and Conditions

- 13.3.1 Employees with 10 years of continuous service shall receive 0.5 Baht of gold, with a maximum value not exceeding THB 35,000.
- 13.3.2 Employees with 15 years of continuous service shall receive 1.0 Baht of gold, with a maximum value not exceeding THB 70,000.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	22 of 29

13.3.3 Employees with 20 years of continuous service shall receive 1.5 Baht of gold, with a maximum value not exceeding THB 105,000.

13.3.4 Employees who meet the eligibility milestone in any month shall receive the award in February of the following calendar year, provided they remain employed with the Company on the date of award distribution. Employees who terminate employment prior to the award date shall not be entitled to receive the award.

13.3.5 In cases of retirement or termination without cause, the Company may, at its discretion, consider granting the award on a case-by-case basis.

13.3.6 The Company may determine the form, type, or specifications of the award, including the option to provide an equivalent monetary value, as deemed appropriate.

13.4 Legal Status of the Award

13.4.1 The award under this provision is a company benefit in accordance with Company policy and shall not be considered wages or remuneration for work performed.

13.4.2 Any award or benefit under this provision shall not be regarded as wages and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime, severance pay, compensation, or any other employment-related benefits, unless otherwise required by law.

13.4.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, suspend, or cancel the criteria, rates, and conditions of this benefit as appropriate. Such actions shall not constitute a change in employment conditions and shall not give rise to any future claims.

14. Provident Fund

14.1 Principle

The Company provides a provident fund for employees. The fund shall be administered in accordance with the fund regulations and applicable laws. The Company may adjust or change the management of the provident fund as appropriate, within the scope permitted by law

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	23 of 29

14.2 Employee Contributions and Company Contributions

14.2.1 Employees may choose to contribute between 2% and 15% of their base salary to the provident fund. Such contributions are intended as a long-term savings option and may be eligible for tax benefits in accordance with applicable laws.

14.2.2 The Company shall contribute an amount equal to the employee's contribution, subject to the maximum rate determined according to the employee's length of service and in accordance with the fund regulations and applicable laws.

Length of Service	Employee Contribution	Company Contribution
After probation but less than 3 years	2% – 15%	Equal to employee contribution, up to 5%
3 years but less than 6 years	2% – 15%	Equal to employee contribution, up to 7%
6 years but less than 10 years	2% – 15%	Equal to employee contribution, up to 10%
10 years and above	2% – 15%	Equal to employee contribution, up to 12%

14.2.3 Contributions by both the employee and the Company shall be made in accordance with the rules, procedures, and timeframes specified in the fund regulations.

14.2.4 Employees may request to change their contribution rate once per year, subject to the timeline and conditions announced by the Company.

14.3 Entitlement to Company Contributions

Upon termination of employment for any reason, employees shall be entitled to receive the Company's contributions in accordance with the vesting schedule specified in the fund regulations. The vesting calculation shall be based on the employee's total length of service, including the probation period, as follows:

Length of Service	Entitlement to Company Contributions
1 year but less than 2 years	25%
2 years but less than 3 years	50%
3 years but less than 4 years	75%
4 years and above	100%

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	24 of 29

14.4 Circumstances Where Company Contributions Are Not Payable

Employees shall not be entitled to the Company's contributions, or may receive them only in accordance with the conditions prescribed by law and the fund regulations, in the following cases:

- 14.4.1 Termination of employment due to serious misconduct under the Company's work rules, subject to the provisions of the fund regulations.
- 14.4.2 Withdrawal from the provident fund while remaining employed by the Company.
- 14.4.3 Any other circumstances specified in the fund regulations.

14.5 Status of Benefits and Changes to Conditions

- 14.5.1 The benefits under this provision shall be governed by the fund regulations and applicable laws.
- 14.5.2 Employee contributions, Company contributions, and any benefits under this provision shall not be considered wages and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other employment-related benefits, unless otherwise required by law.
- 14.5.3 The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, or cancel the contribution rates, rules, or related conditions as appropriate, in accordance with applicable laws and the fund regulations. Such actions shall not be deemed a change in employment conditions.

15. Medical Benefits

15.1 Purpose

To promote access to medical treatment and enhance the quality of life of employees and their families, subject to the criteria and conditions determined by the Company.

15.2 Eligibility

- 15.2.1 Permanent employees shall be entitled to medical benefits after successfully completing the probation period.
- 15.2.2 Medical benefits shall also extend to the employee's family members. "Family members" mean the employee's legally registered spouse and legitimate or legally adopted children who are

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	25 of 29

under 18 years of age. The use of such benefits shall be subject to the criteria, procedures, and coverage limits determined by the Company.

15.3 Use of Other Entitlements First

Employees and their family members must first utilize any available medical benefits from other sources, such as benefits under the social security system, personal health insurance, or any other applicable entitlements.

The Company shall be responsible only for medical expenses exceeding such entitlements, within the coverage limits specified by the Company. If the employee or family members fail to use such available entitlements first, the Company reserves the right not to reimburse the related expenses.

15.4 Coverage and Limits

15.4.1 Inpatient Treatment (IPD)

Item	Coverage Limit
Room and board (maximum 20 days per admission)	Up to THB 2,000 per day
ICU room (maximum 10 days per admission)	Up to THB 2,500 per day
General medical treatment	Up to THB 18,000 per admission
Ambulance service	Up to THB 4,000 per case
Surgical treatment	Up to THB 18,000 per case
Physician's visit (maximum 20 days per admission)	Up to THB 1,000 per day

15.4.2 Outpatient Treatment (OPD)

Item	Coverage Limit
Outpatient treatment (maximum 30 visits per year)	Up to THB 12,000 per visit
Vaccinations	Up to THB 2,000 per year
Eyeglasses	Up to THB 5,000 every 2 years
Special eyeglasses	Up to THB 7,500 every 2 years

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	26 of 29

15.4.3 Reimbursement of medical expenses shall be subject to the criteria, procedures, and conditions determined by the Company. The Company reserves the right to determine, amend, revise, adjust, or cancel the coverage limits, benefits, or related details as appropriate. Such actions shall not constitute a change in employment conditions and shall not create any permanent entitlement for employees.

15.5 Exclusions

- 15.5.1 Cosmetic treatment or surgery, or weight control procedures, unless medically necessary or required for reconstructive treatment following an accident.
- 15.5.2 Infertility treatment, sterilization, or related procedures, unless medically necessary.
- 15.5.3 Termination of pregnancy, unless medically indicated or expressly permitted by law.
- 15.5.4 Dental treatment, including cosmetic dental procedures.
- 15.5.5 Treatment or rehabilitation resulting from drug addiction, or injuries or illnesses occurring while the employee has a blood alcohol level exceeding the legal limit, as determined by medical examination or competent authorities.
- 15.5.6 Treatment not performed by licensed modern medical practitioners, including alternative or traditional medical treatments.
- 15.5.7 Attempted suicide or intentional self-inflicted injury, whether by the employee or with the consent of another person.
- 15.5.8 Injuries resulting from participation in a fight, except in cases of lawful self-defense.
- 15.5.9 Injuries or illnesses resulting from voluntarily participating in high-risk activities, such as car racing, boat racing, jet skiing, boxing, balloon riding, bungee jumping, or similar activities.
- 15.5.10 Treatment that is not medically necessary or elective treatment without medical indication.

15.6 Legal Status of Medical Benefits

Medical benefits under this provision shall not be considered wages and shall not form the basis for calculating overtime pay, severance pay, compensation, or any other employment-related benefits, unless otherwise required by law.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title: Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Revision No.	00
		Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	27 of 29

16. Mobile Phone

16.1 Principle

The Company may provide mobile phones to employees whose positions require regular external communication for business purposes. Such mobile phones shall remain the property of the Company.

16.2 Usage

Employees must use the mobile phone strictly for work-related purposes and in accordance with the Company's objectives, policies, and instructions. Personal use is strictly prohibited unless prior written approval is obtained from the Company.

16.3 Monitoring

The Company reserves the right to monitor and review the use of the mobile phone as necessary for security purposes, data protection, and the Company's business operations. Such monitoring shall not be considered a violation of the employee's privacy rights.

16.4 Return of Equipment

Employees must return the mobile phone and all related equipment to the Company in reasonable condition upon termination of employment or when requested by the Company. Employees shall have no right to retain, withhold, or claim any rights over such property.

16.5 Liability for Loss or Damage

In the event that the mobile phone or related equipment is lost or damaged due to the employee's intentional act or gross negligence, the Company may require the employee to compensate for the damage as deemed appropriate.

17. Travel Allowance for Use of Personal Vehicle

17.1 Purpose

To establish the criteria and reimbursement rate for travel expenses incurred by employees who are required to use their personal vehicles for business purposes or to attend off-site training on behalf of the Company.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	28 of 29

17.2 Eligibility

Permanent employees who are assigned to perform duties outside the workplace or to attend training programs as required by the Company, and who have received prior approval from their line manager to use their personal vehicles, shall be eligible for travel reimbursement under this policy.

17.3 Benefits and Conditions

17.3.1 The Company may provide a travel allowance at a flat rate of THB 6.00 per kilometer.

17.3.2 Travel distance shall be calculated based primarily on the distance indicated by Google Maps, measured from the starting point to the destination related to the employee's work duties.

17.3.3 The use of a personal vehicle for business purposes must receive prior approval from the employee's supervisor each time.

17.3.4 Employees must submit reimbursement claims using the form and supporting documents prescribed by the Company.

17.3.5 Employees are responsible for ensuring that their personal vehicles are properly licensed, insured, and maintained in safe operating condition.

17.4 Amendment of Conditions

The Company reserves the right to amend, revise, or cancel the criteria and reimbursement rate stated above as deemed appropriate. Employees will be notified of such changes in advance.

	Support Document	Document No.	AKR-OHR-SD-002
	Document Title:	Revision No.	00
	Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation	Effective Date	16-Apr-2026
		Page No.	29 of 29

Announcement on Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation

This Employee Welfare and Benefits Regulation has been reviewed and approved by the Company and shall come into effect as of 1 April 2026.

This Regulation supersedes any previous rules, policies, guidelines, or announcements related to employee welfare and benefits issued by the Company. In the event of any inconsistency or conflict, the provisions of this Regulation shall prevail.

The Company may issue additional sub-regulations, announcements, guidelines, circulars, or internal instructions to specify details, criteria, procedures, or methods for exercising rights under each welfare or benefit. Such additional provisions shall be considered an integral part of this Regulation.

The provision of welfare and benefits under this Regulation is voluntary, based on the organizational needs, and does not create any permanent or claimable rights beyond those required by law, unless explicitly stated in writing by the Company. Determination of whether a welfare or benefit constitutes a condition of employment shall be in accordance with applicable labor laws and rulings from competent authorities.

The Company reserves the right to establish, amend, modify, adjust, suspend, or terminate any welfare or benefit, in whole or in part, as appropriate, based on business conditions, service provider arrangements, or legal requirements.

In cases of ambiguity, dispute, or issues not explicitly addressed in this Regulation, the Company shall have the authority to interpret and make decisions as it deems appropriate. Such interpretations shall be final, provided they comply with applicable laws and are executed in good faith, transparently, and fairly.

If any provision of this Regulation is deemed invalid, unenforceable, or void under the law, the remaining provisions shall continue to be in full force and effect.